

On Beauty

Late 2014

It is difficult to write 'on Beauty'!

But today morning it was there! I was waiting for my friend near the 'powai lake'.

The Beauty of the scene captured me.

Water in front was calming the mind.

Two hills, one was dark and other had light brown glow! Slowly I discovered the dark hill had a beautiful dark shadow in the water which was contrasting with the shadow of the hill next to it.

Mind became still like the water and the hills for a while.

Then the discovery came.

The darkness of the hill was moving and I realized that, it is the shadow of a cloud which was causing the darkness.

The moving darkness on the hill was like a snake coming out of its cover!

Soon the darkness vanished.

The hill started competing with the next.

But it was looking like the other now!

The beauty it beheld by being dark also vanished !